Welcome to this festive quarterly newsletter from Source4Networks!

To celebrate the season, we're introducing the Source4Networks Twitter advent calendar. Every day this month, we've been tweeting one of our favourite resources on networks – from videos to blogs and articles. To access this treasure trove of resources, simply follow us @Source4Networks and watch out for our daily advent calendar tweet.

As a valued member of Source4Networks, may we wish you a wonderful Christmas and a happy and peaceful new year - The Source4Networks team

Coming up: Focal Point webinar – Measuring the impact of your network
Monday 28 January 2019, 3pm to 4pm

In this webinar we'll introduce you to the NHS England's Sustainable Improvement team Impact Framework, has been developed to capture and demonstrate the impact and value of improvement work in complex adaptive environments such as the British health and social care system. The webinar will help you to identify the challenges and opportunities inherent in evaluating the impact of your network, explore evaluation principles and practices that can underpin the work of your network.

Please register for the webinar in advance.

Developing Networks for Change and Improvement
January 2019

In January, the Source4Networks partnership of NHS England and London South Bank University will be starting an online course for current and aspiring facilitators of networks in health and care – titled Developing Networks for Change and Improvement (DEN4CI).

Over 11 weeks, the DEN4CI course will equip network facilitators with the know-how, confidence and practical tools they need.

The course has proved to be very popular and is now full. However we hope to run it again in the future. If you didn't apply this time round but would be interested in doing so if we run it again, please email us at england.si-networks@nhs.net and we'll send you an email when we have more details.

Primary Care Improvers conference – Taking general practice forward

The third annual Primary Care Improvers conference will be taking place in London in February 2019. The event provides an opportunity for you to share and learn with like-minded people who are working to change primary care. Whether you are working on quality improvement projects at practice level, leading changes across your organisation or local system or developing local networks, there will be something for you.

Find out more along with details on how to register.

Watch back: Leadership of change in an ever-changing environment – Dr Helen Bevan

This Focal Point webinar took place on Monday 12 November 2018. Presented by Dr Helen Bevan, Chief Transformation Officer at NHS Horizons, it helped participants to explore leadership roles in a changing environment of networks and social movements.

If you didn't manage to join the webinar, you can now watch the recording and access the slides on Source4Networks.

Getting the most from Source4Networks: guidance videos available

As part of a Focal Point online event we hosted on 11th October, we've produced a series of videos helping you to get the best from the Source4Networks platform. The videos guide you through the functions of the platform and give you top tips on how you can use them to enhance your knowledge and drive improvements in your network.
